RE: Business Recommendation Letter

I reached out to Colin Broberg-Sirius Controls over 3 years ago to help with quoting a chemical pump solution for one of [REDACTED] wells [REDACTED]. Quote was approved by [REDACTED] Engineering. Pump was purchased/installed and performed well. Operations could see the benefit and cost savings of accurate chemical injection. To date [REDACTED] Engineering has purchased over 30 Star/Fusion pump skids. Sirius has always been there to work through any issues that arose. For instance, our solar masts were modified, to insure proper panel positioning regardless of orientation of pump skid on lease and this has now become standard on their package. As well, firmware upgrades needed to take place on older Star controllers and Colin pushed through to resolve this concern and implemented fix in the field, all at Sirius's cost.

I like the two-stage, dual seal on the pump where the internal seal will start passing (thus pump fluid throughput will start slipping) long before the external seal leaks to the environment. Operations, with the weekly drawdown check, will indicate that the pump requires a repair kit. To date we have not purchased any pump repair kits, nor have we had a chemical spill to the environment by failure of one of these pumps.

I recommend, from my present experience, doing business with Sirius Controls!

Yours truly:
